This is itself is I think you will ad mit, satisfactory, but we were in great hopes of presenting to you a Profit and Loss Account that would have been the best on record. Our first accounts showed 11 lacs of dollars profit. ont about the middle of last month the London Manager wired that Mr Morel, the agent of the Bank in Lyons, hadoverdrawn his account to the extent of 1,290,000 france without permission and without accurity to meet losses he had incurred on the Bourse. Mr. Jackson recommended that the whole amount should be written off as he thought there was no chance of recovering anything, and we accordingly amended our accounts, making provision for $330,000, and thereby reducing our profits to $770,000. I need hardly tell you how All letters for publication should be written on one keenly the Directors feel the loss of so large a sum under such circumstances. Our legal advisers in Manila confidently assure us that the funds of the Bank that were embargoed early in the year will soon be returned to us. The management in London was taken up by Mr. Jackson on the lat June, Mr. McLean having wished to retire, and from the well-known energy and ability of our late Chief Manager, the Directors feel that the interests of the Bank could not be in better hands. Your Directors also take this opportunity of, expressing their appreciation of Mr. McLeau's long and valuable services to the Bank, extending over twenty-tour years. position to meet a serious opposition than if it owed no money except to its shareholders. On the contrary, I believe that the present indebtedness of the Company is the only aspect in its affairs which invites opposition. Free from debt, and with a capital of $2,343,750 of its own money, represented by assets worth considerably more than their book value, and a Reserve Fund of $193,312, serious opposition would be out of the question, because it dould not hope to succeed, or give a return upon its capital, working against an old ratablished business possessing every facility, and which could, if needs must work for its ourrent expenses and without profit You are mistaken in imputing to me a desire to place a heavy burden upon the Company by increasing its capital. NOW ON SALE. IMPERIAL QUARTO. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN"

PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press. Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously. attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration !-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medharst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst 1625 this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English Neither the Captains, the Agents, nor the understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect OWNERS, will be RESPONSIBLE for any the work will be found indispensable to all very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
